Typography

should perform :

- Invite the reader into the text
- Reveal the tenor and meaning of the text
- Clarify the structure and the order of the text
  - Link the text with other elements

The 66-character line

The length of line is usually around 30 times the size of the type.

Letter spacing

Letter spacing caps, small caps and all long string of digit

Optimal leading

So, once you have decided on your body copy font size, multiplying this value by 1.5 will give you the optimal line height.

Type Classification

«Type classification, while helpful, is often convoluted, confusing and even controversial.»

Vox-ATypI Classification

Devised by Maximilien Vox in 1954, it was adopted in 1962 by the Association Typographique Internationale (ATypI).

A.1.3 Unterscheidbarkeit von Ziffern

Ziffern mit stärker eingeschlossenen Innenformen wie bei der Schriftart Helvetica (siehe Bild A.4, a)), sind bei ungünstigen Lesebedingungen (kleiner Visus, Überstrahlung, geringe Helligkeit oder geringer Leuchtdichtekontrast) schlechter zu erkennen als Ziffern mit offenen Innenformen wie bei der Schriftart Frutiger (siehe Bild A.4, b)). Schriftarten mit offenen Innenformen sind daher leserlicher und eignen sich besser für Signalisations-, Konsultations- und Lesetexte.

Humanist sans

- Period : late 50s
- Strong calligraphic influence
- Some of them feature stress (non-vertical axis)
- Gill Sans, Frutiger, Myriad (1991), Trebuchet (1996) and Calibri (2005).

Calligraphic flared strokes

The image displays the 'Optima' typeface by Hermann Zapf, 1955. It features two lines of text: 'Zapf' on the top line and 'Humanist' on the bottom line. The letters are primarily brown, but the 'a' in 'Zapf' and the 'u' in 'Humanist' are highlighted in yellow. Three callout boxes with black backgrounds and white text point to specific features: 'Calligraphic flared strokes' points to the 'a' in 'Zapf'; 'Double story 'g'' points to the 'g' in 'Zapf'; and 'Calligraphic stroke contrast' points to the 'u' in 'Humanist'. The background is a light blue with horizontal lines.
